If Umbraco is important to your business, attending Codegarden is a great investment. Why exactly? We give you 8 reasons

1

Your developer will come home with 1 - or 10! great new ideas for upcoming projects

The Codegarden conference is more than just a nice fresh breeze of new ideas - It's a storm! We work hard to ensure that the conference provides a wide variety of sessions, workshops and activities so everyone from beginners to seasoned Umbraco veterans will leave filled with knowledge, motivation and fresh ideas. Ideas and knowledge that your developer can use as soon as s/he gets back to the office.

Your developer can attend in-depth, hands-on workshops at no extra cost

With a Codegarden ticket your developer gets the chance to improve their Umbraco skills at no extra cost. We offer 3 half-day classroom workshops that allows the attendees to hone their skills in specific areas and get intimately familiar with the latest version of Umbraco. The workshops are taught by the developers behind the software and offer an unique opportunity to get expert guidance. The workshops has limited seating and the sign-up for these free workshops will be announced on the Codegarden website and directly to ticket holders.

No time-waste. This is where you find the worldclass of everything Umbraco

Packed with sessions across six themes, there will always be something interesting and meaningful to participate in. The people behind some of the most advanced and ambitious Umbraco implementations in the world will be presenting at Codegarden along with acclaimed web/CMS keynote speakers. There is no better place to send your employee if you want them to be completely up to date on everything Umbraco.

Have your say and influence the future of Umbraco

Have you or your developers got ideas to how Umbraco should be improved? Perhaps you keep running into an annoying issue that you just want fixed. At the Open Space session at Codegarden you can bring your ideas and thoughts and together with other passionate and talented Umbraco developers you can discuss concrete action points that you'd like to change or improve in Umbraco to make your everyday work with the CMS simpler and less time consuming.

Your employee gets a chance to talk directly to the people behind Umbraco

Directly, as in face-to-face. The entire development team behind Umbraco will be present and ready for questions, including the founder of Umbraco: Niels Hartvig, and the rest of Umbraco HQ. We're friendly and we really want to hear your ideas and thoughts on Umbraco.

6

It's THE place for professional Umbraco networking
While the tracks are jam-packed we also provide the space for attendees to learn and share with each other as we know that this is what makes an inspired and motivated developer.

It's cheaper than most 3-day conferences.

We know that for most of you transportation and hospitality needs to be added to the ticket price. This is one of the reasons why we keep the actual Codegarden ticket price low. A ticket includes 3 full Umbraco packed days, delicious lunch and dinner, social/networking activities and all the coffee needed. All this for just €700. However, the sooner you book, the cheaper the ticket.

8

Everyone is going - can you really afford to miss out?

Attendees at Codegarden gain a competitive edge. As mentioned above, Codegarden is where you find the biggest concentration of Umbraco talent, the entire Umbraco HQ and acclaimed CMS/web experts. All of whom are at Codegarden to share their latest knowledge and best practises in Umbraco. Keeping your employees skills up to date, you can make sure your business takes full advantage of the newest Umbraco tech and stay ahead of your competitors. Can you really afford skipping this once-a-year Umbraco extravaganza, missing out on all the latest within Umbraco and sneak peeks of what's coming?

Last year around 600 people from more than 200 different business around the world participated in Codegarden.

We hope to see your company represented as well.
